

Survivor Scholarship Application

FOR FIRST-TIME & RENEWING APPLICANTS
ACADEMIC YEAR 2019-2020

OUR MISSION

The Quell Foundation strives to reduce the number of suicides, overdoses, and incarcerations of people with mental health illness. We work to accomplish this by encouraging people to share their stories, increasing access to mental health services, providing a pipeline of future mental health care professionals with scholarships, and training first responders to recognize mental health crisis warning signs amongst their own.

There's a severe stigma associated with mental health illness that prevents those closest to us from getting the help they need. By promoting open, judgment-free dialogue, together we can shatter the stigma and normalize the conversation around mental health.

THE AWARD

The Quell Survivor Scholarship is awarded to select high school seniors or current undergraduate/graduate students who have experienced the devastating loss of a parent, caregiver or sibling to suicide. The award was established by The Quell Foundation's Irene Pasierb Memorial Fund as a means to educate communities and individuals about the disparities in care and effective treatment protocols afforded to the vulnerable and stigmatized population with a mental health illness.

IRENE PASIERB MEMORIAL FUND

Irene Pasierb was born in Western Massachusetts in 1932. As the youngest daughter of Polish immigrants, she excelled in academia, music, and community involvement. To her friends, she was 'Nina' or 'Rene.' As a high school Junior, Irene won a medal given by the Daughters of the American Revolution for writing the best essay on any patriotic subject. She graduated with high honors in 1949, and her yearbook photo was captioned, 'And she had a face like a blessing.'

With a passion for learning, Irene pursued her post-secondary education at the Mass General Hospital of Nursing, graduating in 1952.

Over the next decade, Irene married and started her family. In the years that followed she began her fight with diminishing mental health. She battled schizophrenia and clinical depression and required hospitalization on several occasions. In 1975 at the age of 43, Irene took her life; ending her battle with the illness, she tried so hard to stave off. She left four children ages 12-22 when she passed.

Surviving the life-changing loss of their mother, and with the same passion for education, each of her children went on to earn a graduate degree in their respective field of study. The Quell Foundation Survivor Scholarship is funded, in whole, by one of Irene's daughters: A national leader in her field.

This important recognition is accompanied with:

- A one-year distribution of a $500 - $1,500 scholarship.
- Opportunity to participate in the foundation's awareness events/activities.

Application deadline is April 15, 2019

Award notification will be announced by mail in May
